"See James" said Lars, showing the singer two light bulbs. "Here is an incandescent bulb and here's an energy efficient bulb. The incandescent bulb wastes 95% of its energy as heat but the other one doesn't".

James frowned at the second bulb. "How bright is it?"

Lars handed said bulb to Kirk. "Kirk, demonstration please".

Kirk stood on a chair beneath the light fitting and placed the new bulb into the socket. Lars admired Kirk's ass in his tight jeans and blushed.

"Doesn't give off heat? Ha, you look hot Lars and it isn't even switched on yet" James snickered.
